

Data protection-crossword

Fill the boxes with the right answers.

■ separates words within a phrase

Questions:

1. The ... has been in force in the EU Member States since May 2018.
2. From a data protection perspective, data relating to a specific ... are to be protected.
3. The person whose data is being processed is called
4. Data protection doesn't only protect data, but also
5. The central point of contact for data protection within the company is usually the
6. Processing personal data is only allowed if a ... exists.
7. You may think that the technical aspects are the most important, but when it comes to ... the length is more important. 😊
8. ... must be proactive and voluntary, as well as withdrawable with future effect.
9. If there is a data breach the company must ... this to the supervisory authorities within 72 hours.
10. The golden rule of ... protection: „do unto others as you would have them do unto you“.
11. If personal data is being processed on behalf of someone a ...-contract must be in place. Does this mean you need such a contract when hiring a bounty hunter, since you've given them the name of your „client“? No, because their main focus is not processing data. 😊
12. Processing personal data is limited to the purposes laid forward when the data was collected. This principle is called
13. As a principle, only the personal data absolutely necessary to fulfill the purpose should be collected. This principle is called
14. Every person has a right to know which of their data and for what purpose has been collected. This is the principle of ... , which is partially covered by informing data subjects of collection of their data upon the collection.
15. In sunny Italy a company would like run a marketing project: sending out pairs of sunglasses, as a gift, via post to its customers. The legal basis for this processing of personal data is the legitimate
16. How can digital data be protected from unauthorized access?
17. ... employee is responsible for ensuring good data protection practices within the company. You as well!